NORTH AMERICAN INDIGENOUS GAMES COUNCIL ANNOUNCES 2011 HOST SOCIETY TO MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN, USA!

Cowichan, British Columbia, Canada – Alex Nelson, President of the North American Indigenous Games Council stated today that the next Host Society of the 2011 NAIG will be Milwaukee, Wisconsin, USA. These Games are scheduled for the summer of 2011.

The North American Indigenous Games is held every three years. The Games provide an opportunity for First Nations/Metis/Inuit/Native American and North American Indian athletes to compete in 16 summer sport events. These Games showcase cultural and sporting events that unite athletes, cultural performers, and support staff from throughout North America.

The North American Indigenous Games Council, which is comprised of 26 mandated Regions from Canada and USA, is the governing body responsible for the Bid process and grants the rights to Host the Games.
