Dear Dr. Lang,

We, at Limited Brands Loss Prevention, are excited about the new “on line” Bachelor of Science degree program in Loss Prevention. We are anxiously awaiting the January 2007 pilot roll out.

As you know, we have 15 Associates from the Limited Brands Loss Prevention Team that have shown an interest in becoming students in the pilot program. I am also pleased to know that two leaders from our team, Veronica Ford and Rod Holm, were involved in course development on this project.

The opportunity for professionals in the Loss Prevention field to blend course work and workplace experience is critical in building a strong base of knowledge that will allow for personal and professional career growth.

Please know that Limited Brands is supportive of the efforts of Northern Michigan University. The skills and knowledge that this program will provide will give the participants a strong competitive advantage as they continue their careers in Loss Prevention.

Sincerely,

Paul Jones
